SYDNEY ROYAL DISTRICT EXHIBITS COMPETITION

SHOWCASING EXCELLENCE IN NSW AGRICULTURE

Agriculture's place in Australia - the District Exhibits Competition brings the Cropping and Horticulture section of Agricultural Production to the Royal Easter Show.

- The first District Exhibits Display was staged in 1876.
- The District Exhibits promotes the hard work of our rural communities and showcases the agricultural excellence in NSW.
- NSW is divided up into four competing districts Central, Southern, Northern and Western Districts.
- These Districts are referred to as Courts. The Courts are made up of community volunteers.
- The Districts Exhibits Competition comprises of three major awards -
 - Winner - Produce Competition - The premier award, The District Exhibits Perpetual Shield is awarded to the winning District achieving the most points over the twelve sections in the produce competition. The Perpetual Shield is the oldest perpetual trophy in the RAS collection and was first awarded in 1911.
 - Winner - Display Competition – is judged on Theme, Design, Staging & Display, Visual Impact and General Presentation.
 - Winner - People' Choice – is awarded to the winning District voted Best Display as voted by the public.

The District Exhibits Produce Competition is judged over six days prior to the opening of the show. There are over 50 judges involved in the judging process. The produce that is judged in the competition is incorporated into the display. The District Exhibits Competition has 13 sections which are as follows -
