ROYAL AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY OF NSW (RAS) ABN 69 793 644 351

Royal Agricultural Society of NSW

Welcome from the President

I am thrilled to welcome you to the prestigious President's Medal Award competition. This award is the highest honour that the Royal Agricultural Society of NSW (RAS) bestows across the categories of wine, beer & cider, distilled spirits, cheese & dairy produce, and fine food.

The President's Medal is unique in Australia, as it looks beyond product taste and presentation to examine the economic practices, social mission and environmental footprint of the underlying business.

This Medal embodies both the iconic heritage and the future-facing mission of the RAS. Our goal is to encourage progress and innovation in Australian agriculture while fostering a community that understands and values award-quality produce.

The value and critical relevance of this competition cannot be overstated. In an era where sustainability and ethical practices are paramount for everyone, the President's Medal Award serves as a beacon of excellence. It highlights the importance of integrating sustainable practices into every facet of production, ensuring that our agricultural industry remains robust and forward-thinking. This competition not only recognizes outstanding products but also sets a benchmark for others to aspire to, fostering a culture of continuous improvement and innovation.

There is only one road to the President's Medal, and that is through the Sydney Royal Wine, Beer & Cider, Distilled Spirits, Cheese & Dairy Produce, and Fine Food competitions held throughout the year. Winners of these categories qualify to compete for the honour of President's Medal winner.

To our finalists, thank you for your dedication, not only to award-quality produce, but also to bringing your business mission to life through production values that include sustainable, environmentally focused, and community-strengthening principles.

My heartfelt appreciation goes to the dedicated and hard-working President's Medal working group that it is my honour to Chair, our judges, our sponsor Wine Selectors, and of course, to Sydney Showground's Executive Chef, Cyril Miletto, and his team, for the outstanding work they do in presenting our finalists' produce to diners at the awards dinner.

Thank you also to our Councillors who nurture the Wine, Beer & Cider, Distilled Spirits, Cheese & Dairy Produce, and Fine Food Shows, and who run the respective competitions with the assistance of RAS staff and volunteer stewards.

These world-class events showcase the best-of-the-best in Australian award-quality produce, and we are proud of your contribution.

Testimonials from President's Medal Alumni

Winning the 16th Annual President's Medal really changed our world! We never imagined a tiny company run by a Japanese single mom and with the help of fellow moms who work while the children are at school, would ever be recognized with such a prestigious award – it was like the great Australian dream coming true!

Entering the Fine Food Award is great to get feedback and improve the quality of your products... and entering the President's Award is an amazing opportunity to sit down and think how your business can contribute to the world socially, economically, and environmentally. We rediscovered so much about who we are and our strengths through the process and feedback from the wonderful judges. It was an extremely valuable exercise and to win the medal against so many wonderful businesses at the end was just unbelievable. We are motivated more than ever to keep contributing to people's gut health through our hand-crafted delicious, and nutritious miso. Thank you to the amazing team of Royal Agricultural Society of NSW.

Tomoko Onuki, Rice Culture – 16th Annual President's Medal Winner

Thank you to the Royal Agricultural Society of NSW for its involvement and support. We have loved the process and the team and I loved having you on-site and of course we have loved winning. The accolades, the amount of media, the hits on our website and the whole thing speaks volumes of the success of the President's Medal and the cut through it has across all industries. We can't wait to be ambassadors for the President's Medal.

Hamish Maguire, Shottesbrooke – 15th Annual President's Medal Winner

We couldn't believe our ears when they announced Gumnut Patisserie as the winner of the 14th RAS of NSW President's Medal. To say we were honoured would be an understatement. The businesses we were up against were all awesome and we were pretty stunned that we had been named in the top six, but then to hear our little Patisserie in the Southern Highlands to be named as the winner was amazing. The reason we started the Gumnut Patisserie in the first place is so we as a couple could work together. Fast forward 26 years we have a team of 60+ including our four children, that we like to call our Gumnut Family. This is a whole team achievement, and we would also like to take this opportunity to thank our Gumnut Family, past and present. This prestigious award was such an honour to win, the Gumnut Patisserie will now forever be known as a President's medal winner.

Tracy & Vicki Nickl, The Gumnut Patisserie – 14th Annual President's Medal Winner

Winning such a prestigious award has been an enormous honour. We are proud to be part of a growing enthusiasm for Australian Agribusiness, especially innovative food production from paddock to plate and the President Medal win is acknowledgement of the enormous work and effort by our Meredith Dairy team. Meeting the growing demand for specialty dairy products has been challenging so it is really fantastic to be recognised for meeting those challenges.

Julie and Sandy Cameron, Meredith Dairy – 13th Annual President's Medal Winner

We are thrilled to have been recognised as the first professional bakery and finalist to win both the RAS of NSW President's Medal and the NSW Department of Primary Industries Innovation Award. Winning these Awards motivates us to continue with our pursuit of crafting products of high quality and integrity. This is not an individual Award but a collective recognition of the hard work and support from all our staff, farmers and industry partners who have been involved on this journey to celebrate the source. Because of their support, today we can now put a loaf of bread on the table and tell you what paddock it is from and that is extremely important!

4. Looking at the whole production cycle of your enterprise, what is it that makes you proud to be an agricultural producer in Australia?

6. Innovation can play a vital role in the effective management of economic, social, and environmental issues within production enterprises. Please provide examples, such as innovative business models, marketing and community engagement strategies, or production technologies that you have developed to enhance the sustainability and/or competitiveness of your Champion product. How do you work/plan to ensure you are at the forefront of your industry for the future?
7. Site Details (if you are successful to proceed as a Finalist, tell us where we would best visit your operation).

Nominee and Finalist Exhibits will then be assessed on the following criteria:

JUDGING CRITERIA	POINTS
The effective management of environmental, social, and financial sustainability issues (henceforth referenced as the Triple Bottom Line) confronting the business or businesses from which the Exhibit is derived. Effective management of these issues is deemed to reflect sustainable production practices and hence food and beverage products which can claim the highest level of product integrity. Judging will similarly take into account the sustainability of up-stream and down-stream businesses which provide inputs and services embodied in the Finalist Exhibit. The elements of the Triple Bottom Line are: Environmental Sustainability: This includes the effective management of current and emerging impacts of the business on the environment. This element of the judging requires Exhibitors of Nominee and Finalist Exhibits to have high levels of awareness of environmental assets in their region, the relative scarcity of those assets and current and emerging community priorities with respect to the protection of those assets. Exhibitors of Nominee and Finalist Exhibits should be aware of the impacts of the business on environmental assets, and/or have strategies in place by which business impact can be progressively assessed and mitigated over time. Judging will also consider how well environmental business strategy reflects the respective roles that individual business owners, their industry more broadly and the community can play in environmental management. Social Sustainability: This includes the relationship of the business to people, i.e. people ‘within’ and ‘external’ to the business. Issues internal to the business will have a strong focus on workforce management, i.e. staff turnover, career development, staff engagement, workforce incentives and cohesion in being integrally involved in driving sustainable business outcomes. Issues external to the business will include levels of awareness and proactive management of current and prospective business impacts on local and regional communities, and local and regional community engagement in business strategy. Also taken into account will be the effective management of health, safety and welfare impacts that might currently or prospectively relate to Exhibit consumption. Financial Sustainability: This includes business having effective financial monitoring procedures in place which enable early detection of problems, or opportunities, thereby facilitating effective adaptive management by the business. High levels of awareness of current and prospective business risks are expected, supported by an appropriate risk management strategy.	60 Points
Innovation in Achieving Environmental, Social and Financial Business Sustainability and Associated Exhibit Integrity Food and beverage businesses that strive to be at the forefront of current and emerging consumer preferences and associated sustainable production practices, will often be those that develop and ‘early adopt’ innovative business, production and marketing practices. Willingness to innovate will often reflect market leadership and close consideration by the business of emerging consumer preferences. It follows that such businesses will be at the forefront of driving industry competitiveness in domestic and export markets. Judges will therefore take into consideration business awareness of the current and emerging drivers of innovation in product markets, and how the business has responded and plans to respond. Innovation will relate to the achievement of financial, social and environmental outcomes and may relate to the adoption of new or past practices. Importantly, Judges will also consider the passion with which Exhibitors pursue product development that aligns with the emerging business challenges/risks and consumer preferences.	40 Points
